Topics – Part 2
Clinical Supervision

- Not a topic that should intimidate you.
- Today – I challenge you to find a piece of information that will energize you or you are interested to explore further.
- Supervision is about sharing knowledge, quality assurance and encouragement.
- At GW, we are about inclusion, not exclusion.
- Literature – We still have a great deal of work to do in this area. Anyone considering a Ph.D. program?
Best Practices in Clinical Supervision

• Great place to start relative to your fund of knowledge about supervision.
ACES Best Practices in Clinical Supervision

- Initiating Supervision
- Goal Setting
- Giving Feedback
- Conducting Supervision
- Supervisory Relationship
- Diversity and Advocacy Considerations

- Ethical Considerations
- Documentation
- Evaluation
- Supervision Format
- The Supervisor
- Supervisor Preparation: Supervision Training and Supervision of Supervision
Players in Supervision

- Intern (sometimes referred to as resident)
- Clinical Supervisor
- Site Supervisor
- University Instructor/Supervisor
- Doctoral Supervisor
So What Is Clinical Supervision?
Clinical Supervision:

The purpose is to

- Enhance the professional functioning of more junior person – provide additional training (develop & expand skills, attitudes, & thinking)
- Provide additional support
- Monitor quality of professional services offered to clients
- Serve as gatekeeper of the profession

(Bernard & Goodyear, 2004)
Supervisory Working Alliance

- Will refer to this multiple times today.
- Historically developed by Bordin (1983).
- Basically applies the Therapeutic Working Alliance concepts to supervisor/supervisee as opposed to counselor/client.
- Those concepts are goals, tasks, and bonds.
Types of Models

- Developmental
- Orientation Specific
Models of Supervision

- Integrated Development Model (IDM)
- 4 levels of development; trainee moves forward by developing greater:
  - Self Awareness
  - Motivation
  - Autonomy
IDM - Continued

• Supervisor begins in a more prescriptive manner
• Then moves toward greater use of conceptualization, and
• Finally toward helping CI develop their own orientation
Discrimination Model

• Areas of Focus
  – Intervention (skills demonstrated; how well)
  – Conceptualization (Cl understanding of what is occurring in session)
  – Personalization – (personal counseling style)

• Roles the Supervisor Plays:
  – Teacher
  – Counselor
  – Consultant
Some Orientation Specific Approaches

- Person Centered – Genuineness/Warmth/Positive Regard – emphasizes the development of the person of the supervisee
- Cognitive-Behavioral – teach appropriate therapist behaviors and extinguish inappropriate behavior
- Constructivist/Narrative – Focus on Supervisee’s Strengths; assist supervisee in editing client stories and in developing own professional stories
- Systems – explore family of origin issues in supervision; Introduce and reinforce process of reframing; use of EBP family therapy models
A Rehabilitation Model of Supervision

• The Tripartite Model of Supervision helps to highlight categories of activities and is applicable across our counseling specialties.
• While this is a model from the Rehabilitation Counseling literature, it is directly applicable to other counseling specialties as well (school settings, clinical mental health settings, etc.)
The Tripartite Model of Supervision

- The Tripartite Model consists of administrative oversight, professional development, and clinical supervision.
- The basis of the model is the supervisory working alliance (SWA). (Schultz, 2008)

SWA = Supervisory Working Alliance
Your Involvement

• You play a major role in all areas (Administrative Supervision, Clinical Supervision, and Professional Development) but an important one is as follows:

  – “Have I made the right choice? This is all so new to me and maybe I’m not in the right place.”
Licensure and Supervision

• Different states have different approaches and different required qualifications. For instance:
  • SC and LPC-S
  • VA and Registry
How Will You Supervise?
Some Common Supervision Methods

- Verbal Reports
- Interpersonal Process Recall (collective review of videos)
- Verbatim Reports (transcripts)
- Case Reviews
- Video Taping/Audiotaping
Methods Continued

- Direct Observation (2 way mirror)
- Bug in the Ear
- Modeling
- Role Play
- Webcam/Zoom/etc.
Important Factor To Me

- Don’t forget the Counseling Intern is human.
- If a message is delivered in a manner that the Intern can’t hear, even if it’s a good message, you didn’t accomplish your objective.
Some Recent Supervision/Rehabilitation Literature
Rehabilitation and Supervision

My Lens

• I’m sharing what resonated with me
• This is not a comprehensive review of each article
• These are some items I thought might be of interest to you all
Herbert, Schultz, Lei, & Aydemir-Doke (2018)

- Article acknowledges the limited available research empirically investigating clinical supervision outcomes.
- Developed a training program to enhance clinical supervision of state vr counselors.
- Used multiple assessment measures that might interest you regarding clinical supervision.
- Those interested in the training program model can contact the first author.
Landon & Schultz (2018)

• Interviews with state vr and non profit supervisors.
• Exploration of the relationship between supervision, enhancing ethical knowledge, the supervisory working alliance, and Ethical Fluidity.
McCarthy (2013)

• What factors are positively associated with the SWA?
  – Existence of a supervision contract
  – Regularly scheduled contact with supervisor
  – Counselors’ rating of importance of supervision
Examined the impact of Supervisory Styles on Supervision Effectiveness

Supervisory Styles Inventory (Attractiveness {Collegial}, Interpersonally Sensitive, and Task Oriented).

Internship students found a range of styles to be effective.
Sabella, Landon, McKnight-Lizotte, & Bernacchio (2020)

• Professional Dispositions
  – Counseling Competencies Scale
  – Professional Disposition Competence Assessment

• Found dispositions are assessed using informal methods more frequently than formal methods
Sabella continued

• Found these professional dispositions are resistant to change:
  – Limited adaptability or flexibility
  – Closed-mindedness
  – Low Self-awareness
  – Not being opened to feedback

• Currently there is no consensus definition of Professional Dispositions in the Counseling Literature
Sabella Continued…

• Recommendations for assessing Professional Dispositions at:
  – Hiring Phase
  – Formative Phase
  – Summative Phase
• Brief form of the Supervisory Working Alliance Inventory
  – I feel comfortable working with my supervisor
  – My supervisor welcomes my explanations about the client’s behavior.
  – My supervisor treats me like a colleague in our supervisory sessions.
  – I work with my supervisor on specific goals in the supervisory session.
  – My supervisor’s style is to carefully and systematically consider the material I bring to supervision.
